MASSACHUSETTS COLLEGE OF OPTOMETRY

No. 1

Trustees Elect First President of College

DR. WILLIAM R. BALDWIN

Enlarged Faculty and Administration Are Major Goals of New President

"Whatever plans are in store for the future can not be carried out unless there is enthusiastic Alumni support."

With this statement Dr. William R. Baldwin, newly appointed president of the Mass. College of Optometry began an exciting interview with your Alumni Bulletin editor over the long-distance telephone wire.

Reached at his home at Forest Grove, Oregon, Dr. Baldwin stated he accepted the presidency because of the challenge offered by Mass. College.

"I accepted this position because Boston should have the finest Optometric College in the country. Boston is the citadel of education and high standards must be maintained."

Asked about his most immediate problems at the college Dr. Baldwin said that he "really did not know the entire situation."

"The faculty is not large enough," he continued. "There is not enough full-time faculty members. We must enlarge the faculty immediately."

"Also," he said, "relations with the Alumni must be good. Without the Alumni behind our programs nothing will succeed."

Top Administrative Post to be Filled by Well-known Optometric Educator

The Board of Trustees of the College has announced that Dr. William R. Baldwin, Dean of Pacific University College of Optometry will assume the post of President on or about June 1, 1969.

In making the announcement, Dr. G. Edward Bradley, President, Board of Trustees, stated that Dr. Baldwin is considered "one of the best Optometric educators in the country" and will become the chief administrator of the college.

Although his duties have not been specifically defined by the board, included in his responsibilities will be establishment of a building program, finances, relations with Alumni, and general college administration.

Dr. G. Burtt Holmes, a member of the Board of Trustees who interviewed Dr. Baldwin, said that Dr. Baldwin's acceptance of the presidency "will launch the college into a new era of growth."

Dr. Baldwin will move his family to the Boston area about June 1st and will assume the presidency shortly thereafter.

Dr. Baldwin Projects Million Dollar Operating Budget for College

Mass. College should have a million dollar operating budget according to Dr. William R. Baldwin, newly-appointed president.

In an exclusive interview Dr. Baldwin stated that the present $200,000 budget must be enlarged if the college is to begin a growth era.

He stated that tuition on the average should be about 24 to 30 per cent of the total cost of educating a student.

"It costs about $4,000 to $5,000 a year to educate an Optometric student." Therefore the tuition should be approximately $1,500 to $1,800 per year. The balance must be obtained from the profession and state and federal funds.

Dr. Baldwin said he would make frequent visits to the College before June and will be studying the financial needs very carefully.

Amendments to the Constitution Adopted at the October 30th, 1968 Meeting

No. 1, Section 7 of the Constitution (under Article 3) shall read:

"If, for any reason, the office of President becomes vacant, the First Vice-President shall assume all duties as President. If, for any reason, the office of First Vice-President, or any other office becomes vacant, the President, with the concurrence of the majority of the Executive Board present at a regular or special Executive Board meeting, shall appoint a member to fill that office for the remainder of the term, or may, with the concurrence of the majority of the members of the Executive Board present at a regular or special Executive Board meeting, delegate the duties of the office to any one of the other elected officers."

No. 2, Section 3 (under Article 3) shall read:

"All officers, except directors, shall hold office for a term of two years from the date of their installation, or until their duly elected successors are installed. The Directors, who are not Officers, shall be elected as follows: Three for a term of two years, and three for a term of four years. Every two years thereafter, three Directors shall be elected for a term of four years. Officers may hold the same office for only two successive terms with the exception of the Corresponding Secretary and the Treasurer."

No. 3, Section 1 (under Article 6) shall read:

"The regular dues shall be $10 annually, payable in advance. A member may elect to become a "Contributing Member" by paying $15 annually, a "Sustaining Member" by paying $25 annually, or a "Life Member" by the lump sum payment of $200. The members may vote to change the amount of said dues at the regular Spring Meeting, a majority vote of the members present being required. Dues for graduating students shall be waived for the first year."

No. 4, Section 2 (under Article 5) shall read:

"Each graduating student from the Massachusetts College of Optometry is automatically a member of the Alumni Association."

The Massachusetts College of Optometry will sponsor a course after January 1, in the use of the new Small Pupil Binocular Indirect Ophthalmoscope.

The Course will include discussion of the theory of indirect Ophthalmoscopy and the use of the instrument both on model and human eyes.

Dr. John E. Asarkof, a member of the MCO faculty wrote a guest Editorial on this instrument in the October 1968 Journal of the AOA.

More information can be obtained by writing to: Registrar, Massachusetts College of Optometry, 178 Newbury Street, Boston, Massachusetts 02116.

Former Dean Dr. Ralph H. Green Honored With Title Of Dean Emeritus

The Massachusetts College of Optometry graduated 32 members of the Fourth Year Class at Commencement Exercises which were held on Friday, June 7, 1968 at the New England Life Hall.

The College conferred the Honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters on Dr. Otto Hochstadt and Senate President Maurice A. Donahue. Dr. Henry Hofstetter, Director of the School of Optometry at Indiana University was the recipient of the Honorary degree of Doctor of Ocular Science.

The Honorable Maurice A. Donahue, President of the Massachusetts Senate, was the Commencement Speaker.

Dr. Ralph H. Green, former Dean of the Massachusetts College of Optometry, was officially presented with the Title of Dean Emeritus. Dr. Ralph Green presented the Dr. Ralph H. Green Gold Medal Award to Joann Hauser Greenberg; Dr. Alton W. Lamont, President of the Alumni Association of the Massachusetts College of Optometry, presented the Alumni Association Award to Clifford A. Scott, Jr.; Mary Katherine Scott was the recipient of the Valedictory Award, the Beta Sigma Kappa Silver Medal Award, and the Daniel Kuperstein Memorial Award; John Joseph Tomasi, Jr. received the Joseph J. Scanlon Award. Joann Hauser Greenberg received the Pi Omicron Sigma Award.

Husband and Wife Sweep Class of '68 Top Honors

Dr. and Mrs. Clifford A. Scott, Jr. received a total of four honors at the Commencement Exercises for the class of 1968.

Both honor graduates, Clifford and Mary met while at Mass. College and were married during their junior year.

Text of Address Given by Dr. Alton Lamont, President, To Class of '68

On behalf of the AA of MCO may I first extend my congratulations to the graduates and offer my best wishes to each of you. I am very honored to welcome you all as active members of the Alumni Association. It has been my pleasure to meet and talk with many of you and present your certificate of membership. We had a most enjoyable and informative Alumni Senior Smoker. I hope, as many of you suggested, that it shall become an annual affair, preferably taking place much earlier in the year. Young aggressive enthusiastic support as you exhibited is a must in order for our A.A. to fulfill our objectives. We must continue to have yours.

At this time it is my pleasure to present the MCO AA Award. This year it is presented to DR. CLIFFORD A. SCOTT, JR. of Marlboro, Mass. It does seem like a "Family Affair." "Academic excellence," "well liked by both faculty and classmates," attended BC, past president Omega Epsilon Phi, "hardworking"—these are descriptions given me.

May I read the citation:

As the recipient of this award, Dr. Scott, I will expect you to be evermindful of the purposes of the MCO AA. You will have a place on the Executive Board for this ensuing year. I hope you will be available and continue to offer a positive building attitude to MCO and its Alumni Association. Congratulations.

Thank you.

Two Outstanding Men Honored During Graduation

Two outstanding men were conferred the Honorary degree of Humane Letters at the Commencement Exercises at the class of 1968.

Dr. Otto Hochstadt, sustainer, professor, and Board of Trustee member of the College and Senate President Maurice A. Donahue were awarded the degree by Dean Hyman Kamens.

Dr. Otto Hochstadt was born in Vienna, Austria. He graduated from Medical School of the University of Vienna, 1932. His medical training was in Internal Medicine and Cardiology at the University Hospital in Vienna. He served as Chief of the Department of Metabolic Diseases, Vienna City Hospital 1937-1938, Chief of the Department of Cardiovascular Diseases, Rothschild Hospital in Vienna 1938-1940.

He started a new life in the U.S.A. in 1940, and opened an office in Boston in 1942 for the practice of Internal Medicine and Cardiology. Dr. Hochstadt became consultant in Internal Medicine to 8 hospitals, and Chief of Medicine of the Longwood Hospital, senior cardiologist of the Parker Hill Medical Center, as well as staff member of the University Hospital. Dr. Hochstadt's Medical Association, New England Cardiovascular Society, Fellow of the American College of Cardiology, (honorary) corresponding member of the Viennese Society of Internal Medicine and founder and past president of the Massachusetts Physicians' Club.

He is a postgraduate lecturer in Electrocardiography.

Since 1946, Dr. Hochstadt has served as a member of the Board of Trustees and Professor of Medical Sciences of the Massachusetts College of Optometry. Since 1948 until 1968 he served as secretary-treasurer of the College. He helped to raise the educational standards of the College, and to receive the right from the Board of Education to confer the following degrees: B.S., O.D. and honorary D.O.S. and H.L.D. Dr. Hochstadt was able to improve the relationship between medicine and optometry in the state of Massachusetts, and to attract medical specialists, including ophthalmologists, as teachers of the College.

Faculty

Dr. Baldwin stated that there will be an administrative education program and that "a new organization structure will be worked out."

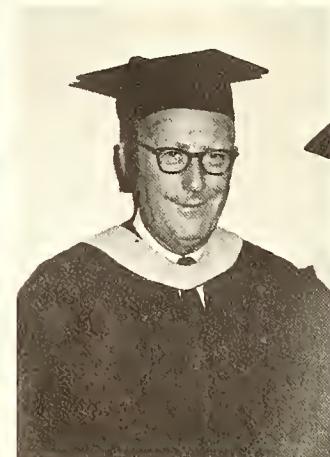

"There are not enough people for all the roles to be played in the administration of the college. There are too many things being done by too few people."

"Dr. Baldwin illustrated his point by saying that across the country medical schools have fourteen people in administrative capacity whereas Optometric Colleges have between one and three."

"However," he said, "do not think that Mass. College is the only college with a faculty and administrative problem. All Optometric Colleges must have more emphasis in this area."

DR. OTTO HOCHSTADT

MAURICE DONAHUE

Senator Donahue received his liberal arts education at Holy Cross College where he took his A.B. degree in 1939. In 1948, he received a Master of Education Degree from Springfield College. With this fine educational background, President Donahue spent a number of years as a school teacher in the city of his birth, Holyoke.

During World War II, he served his country for 45 months in the U.S. Air Force, rising from the rank of Private to Captain.

Following the war, he co-ordinated the activities of disabled veterans through the Veterans Administration.

Prior to his election as President of the Senate, Mr. Donahue served in the House of Representatives and has been in the State Senate since 1952.

Among his many accomplishments, were the filing of the bills which established the Boston Branch of the University of Massachusetts, the bill which established a Massachusetts Teachers Corporation, and the bill which established a State Medical School. It is clear why this man has been referred to as "ONE WHO HAS DONE THE MOST FOR EDUCATION IN THE COMMONWEALTH WITHIN THE LAST DECADE."

AOA President-Elect Receives Honorary Degree from College

Dr. Henry Hofstetter, Director of Indiana University's Division of Optometry, President-Elect of A.O.A., was the recipient of the honorary degree of Doctor of Ocular Science at the commencement exercises of the Massachusetts College of Optometry that were held recently.

Dr. Hofstetter was appointed to the Indiana University faculty in 1952 and made responsible for setting up the Division of Optometry as directed by the State Legislature in response to requests of the Indiana Optometric Association. The Division, which recently moved into its new five-story building provides two years of pre-optometry training and four years of professional work leading to the Doctor of Optometry degree, and a graduate program in physiological optics leading to the master's and Ph.D. degrees.

Dr. Hofstetter came to Indiana from California, where he was Dean of the Los Angeles College of Optometry from 1948 to 1952. A native of Windsor, Ohio, he attended Western Reserve, Kent State, and Ohio State Universities. From the latter, he holds the degrees of B.Sc. in Optometry, and the M.Sc. and Ph.D. in physiological optics. He was a member of the Optometry faculty of Ohio State from 1939 to 1948.

Dr. Hofstetter is a member of several optometric and other scientific organizations and a past president of the Association of Schools and Colleges of Optometry, is a member of the executive council of the American Academy of Optometry and of the Armed Forces-National Research Council Committee on Vision, and is a consultant to the Division of Physician Manpower, Bureau of Health Manpower, U.S. Public Health Service. He was vice-president of the American Optometric Association from 1966-

1967, and is a member of its Board of Trustees. From 1964 to 1967 he was a member of the National Advisory Council on Education for Health Professions.

He is the author of two (2) widely used Optometry textbooks, "Optometry" and "Industrial Vision," and co-author of the "Dictionary of Visual Science." He also has written more than 100 articles published in professional journals.

Students Benefit Greatly from Public Health Service Hospital

Over eight months have elapsed since The Mass. College of Optometry entered into an affiliation with the United States Public Health Service Hospital.

The patient load has been increased by over 200% with approximately 1600 patients being seen to date. Dr. Robert Gold, director of the clinic reports that the response, both by the students and by the hospital has been extremely favorable. Innumerable hypertensives, diabetics, and glaucomas have been successfully detected by the fourth year students.

The program consists of clinical pathology every day from 9 A.M. until 3 P.M. There are three refracting units set up so that each student may perform a complete optometric as well as pathological examination on each patient. In addition there is a perimeter, an autopilot and a meter tangent screen for visual field studies. There are two slit lamps both equipped with Goldman Applanation Tonometers. There are also two gonioscopic lenses for angle study. Among the other tools used by the student to completely evaluate each patient is an ophthalmodynamometer and an exophthalmometer. There is also a Zeiss fundus camera with which 200 slides have been taken.

At 3 P.M. Dr. Stanley Scheiner, Staff Ophthalmologist, discusses the interesting cases of the day. These lectures last approximately two hours. A blackboard has been set up in Dr. Scheiner's private office to facilitate these lectures.

The students may volunteer to observe all ocular surgery being performed during their term at the hospital.

President's Potpourri

In the past and again now, I ask, even plead, for comments, suggestions, criticism, or even just plain gripes. Your response has not been over-whelming. Your association exists only to serve you and the college. All of its activities, all of its changes and additions in the Alumni network are intended solely to make its service more effective. We try to keep you advised of college affairs. We hope we represent your feelings accurately, in adopting positions, and of our continuing increasingly effective contacts with the Administration, Trustees, Faculty, and Students. Our effectiveness is limited unless we fully and accurately represent an informed Alumni body. The Alumni will not get their way everytime, but I am satisfied that your attitude is a major consideration. Make your feeling known. Your officers exist to serve you, and we'd like to do it better. We now have the means.

P.S. Become Active. Get Involved. Plan to attend our regular meetings!

Overwhelming Response Forces Reservation Only Alumni Luncheon

Dr. Joseph Craven and Dr. Clinton Wilson, Co-chairmen of the Annual Alumni Luncheon, announce that because of last years oversubscription arrangements have been made to hold the 1969 Alumni Luncheon in the Commonwealth Room, the largest available room at the Sheraton-Boston during the N.E.C.O. Congress.

However, this larger room only permits an additional thirty-two seats, so that advance reservations will again be a MUST for this event.

Your reservation form will be enclosed with your February Alumni Bulletin — look for it and get your reservations and money in early. The luncheon will be held Sunday, March 2, 1969.

The co-chairmen also announce that plans are underway to have table reservations grouped by graduating classes, when possible. This is a feature which also requires early reservations.

Watch for further details and reservation form in your February Alumni Bulletin.

New President Foresees Additional Building Within Four Years

The College should have a new building within three or four years according to Dr. William R. Baldwin.

"A new building is a must if we are to continue growth at Mass. College."

"You do not need a new building to have good education, but good educators do not like to work under sub-normal conditions."

Dr. Baldwin stated that one of his first tasks will be to look into the status of the building fund drive and the blue prints for the new building.

He foresees a major capital fund drive in the near future.

IF LOVE IS IN THE EYE of the beholder, then they must have a great thing going at the Massachusetts College of Optometry, 178 Newbury St., which also operates the Massachusetts Optometric Clinic on Commonwealth Avenue. At least, that's apparently what happened to one young gal who had her eyes examined at the clinic and dazzled a young doctor there.

The woman, who received a reminder that it was time for another checkup, replied with a note bubbling with happiness: "My last eye examination July 11, 1967, was performed by a most conscientious and charming young doctor. Feeling quite impressed with the thoroughness of my examination and equally impressed with the doctor, I proceeded to see him on a more regular and frequent basis — and recently consented to marry into the fine profession of optometry. But I do thank you for your reminder." — "Hub-Bub" Jim Morse, Boston Herald, Sunday, Oct. 20, 1968.

Dr. Joseph Craven Makes First Report to Alumni Association

It is with pride that I represent the Alumni Association on the Board of Trustees of the College. They are a "good group" and I have enjoyed the two meetings which have been held. Doctor Ed Bradley runs a smooth meeting — I really mean it. He gets things off and running, going at a good pace, but never shutting off debate.

Dean Kamens and Registrar Frank Kozol are ex-officio members of the board. The Dean reports at every meeting in full detail all matters necessary to the Trustees. (Example: There will be fifty Freshmen, over 80% of whom possess academic degrees. This is the highest of all the Colleges of Optometry. The tuition is now $1100.00 per year). The senior students took part in a screening of Air Force dependents at Hanscom Field. A letter of commendation and thanks was received by the Dean from the Post Commander. A reception was held September 16th at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel for the incoming students. Representatives of the Alumni Association, the Massachusetts Society of Optometrists, the teaching staff, and the Board of Trustees among others were invited to attend.

There are many committees which are most active between the formal board meetings. One in which you are all interested is the Building Committee. They have interviewed architects, looked over plans: sizes, types, locations, and even dormitory and parking facilities for the college. Unfortunately, no concrete decisions have been reached.

The Search Committee has not presented candidates for School President as yet. Lots of plans await this decision.

Even before the August meeting, I was assigned to the Public Relations Committee, with Al Hanson, Chairman and Del Parrott. The first phase of a three-part plan submitted by Mr. Joseph Freedman of Creative Communications has been accepted. His abilities will soon be evident.

At the last meeting (September 18th) the Board of Corporation announced the election of Doctors Hanson, Melvin Dunbar and Lawrence Levenson to three year terms on the board. By the way, I am on the committee to recommend board candidates. Please feel free to contact me about any deserving individual you might wish to suggest. Doctor Richard Baker is Chairman and Doctor Otto Hochstadt is the third member. I hope to submit reports like this each edition of the Alumni Bulletin.

Respectfully submitted,
JOSEPH A. CRAVEN, JR., O.D.

New Curriculum Advances Clinic Work to Third Year; Class of 1970 Begins Unique Visual Screening Program

By Michael A. Roy '70

Third year students at the Massachusetts College of Optometry have begun an ambitious program of visual screening which is beneficial both to the participating patients and to the students themselves, who now derive a wealth of clinical experience prior to the onset of their formal fourth year duties.

Conceived and directed by Class President Frank J. Fox of Ontario, Canada, the program sends interested Third year students to certain institutions in the Greater Boston Area whose inhabitants would be otherwise unable to obtain proper vision care. By this exposure to a diversity of patients, the students are gaining invaluable Optometric experience to prepare them for assuming control of the College Clinic next year.

Using the following procedure, the clinicians base a system of referral upon that used in visual screening at Ohio State University:

1. History and Complaints
2. Naked, accustomed, near and pinhole vision
3. External examination
4. PPC
5. Rotations and versions
6. Cover Test: distance and near
7. Fundoscopy
8. Static Skiametry
9. Dynamic Skiametry
10. Subjective Fog Test, including cross-cylinder refinement
11. Red Glass Test
12. Wirth Four Dot Test
13. Visual Skills: Keystone Series

At the end of the session, the clinicians collate their findings, submit them for faculty evaluation, and refer questionable cases to the fourth year students at the clinic.

Dean Hyman R. Kamens enthusiastically endorses the program and desires that the clinicians continue the procedure as a permanent part of the Third year extra curricular activities.

On Saturday, October 19, 1968, the following students inaugurated the screening program at Cushing Hall in Scituate, Massachusetts: Frank Fox, Ontario, Canada; James Begun, Hamden, Connecticut; Richard Colo, Windsor Locks, Connecticut; Raymond Escher, Ballston Spa, New York; Harold Frieden, Hartner, Kansas; Bruce Hillman, Lynnfield, Massachusetts; William Mateik, Smyrna, Delaware; Robert Resnick, Schenectady, New York; Michael Roy, Fall River, Massachusetts; Hayes Sogoloff, Essex Junction, Vermont; Stephen Strelbel, Pittsford, New York; Miss Pauline Vachon, Old Orchard, Maine.

It is hoped that this program which so stimulates the clinical interest of MCO 1970 will continue successfully in the arduous task of molding today's student into tomorrow's Optometrist.

DeCesare attended Roger Williams College in Providence, Rhode Island. He has been on the Dean's List at the Massachusetts College of Optometry and a member of the POS Fraternity at that college.

Jankolovits attended Stuyvesant High School. He majored in Optometry and was the recipient of the Theodore F. Klein Award in his first year. He was also last year's recipient of the Alumni Association Grant-in-Aid.

Air Force Commends College Amblyopia Screening Program; New Faculty Members Added to U.S. Public Health Program

Dean Hyman R. Kamens of the Massachusetts College of Optometry recently received a letter from Major Philip R. Hampe, Chaplain with the United States Air Force at Hanscom Field, congratulating the College on a recent project completed by a Student-Faculty team from the Mass. College of Optometry.

This team set up an Amblyopia Clinic at Hanscom Field, screening dependents of service personnel. Major Hampe stated, "Much of the success of our clinic is directly related to the outstanding work of the men from the Massachusetts College of Optometry." The letter goes on to say "Each of the men that came from your school gained nothing but praise for himself and the college. They were truly concerned about the patients and the parents. Please express to all who had any part in this program the deep sense of appreciation of all of us here at L. G. Hanscom Field for the outstanding work that your men accomplished. We are looking forward to another program later in the winter, and trust that this can be a semi-annual affair."

Four fourth year students participated in this project, including Kenneth Arruda, Anthony Cassani, Marvin Hertzel, and George Montminy. They worked under the supervision of Dr. Stanley Scheiner, Ophthalmologist, Director of the Eye Clinic at the United States Public Health Hospital in Boston and a member of the faculty of the Massachusetts College of Optometry.

Donald J. Doughman, M.D., has recently been appointed to the faculty of the Massachusetts College of Optometry. Dr. Doughman succeeds Dr. Stanley Scheiner as Director of the eye clinic at the United States Public Health Hospital in Boston.

Dr. Doughman completed his Medical studies at the University of Iowa College of Medicine and took his Residency in Ophthalmology at University Hospital in Iowa. He has lectured extensively before a number of Medical Associations and has written many articles which have appeared in various Medical Journals throughout the country.

The Massachusetts College of Optometry is affiliated with the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital, and fourth year students from the College are assigned to the Eye Clinic of this Hospital on a rotating weekly basis under the direct supervision of Dr. Doughman and Dr. Gerald Morse, MLO Class of '68, who is a clinical instructor at the Mass. College of Optometry.

Jon Dana, a resident of Franklin, Mass., received the Theodore F. Klein Memorial Award at the Statler Hilton Hotel on October 14, 1968, at the Northeast Congress. Each year the Board of Trustees makes an award of $200 to that member of the first year class who achieves the highest scholastic average in all courses in the first year curriculum.

society Scholarship Committee, has announced that the $200 is being awarded to Paul A. DeCesare.
ship is being awarded to Arthur Jankolovits. ence, Rhode Island where he was on the Dean's List. He has also optometry and is presently a Student Council Representative ajored in Biology and Economics at Queens College. He was ear of study at the Massachusetts College of Optometry. He was in-Aid Scholarship.

Renewed Alumni Interest Swells Membership Role

Revitalized and renewed interest in the NEW Alumni Association is evidenced by a report from our Treasurer, Dr. Robert Titelbaum. He has received dues for 1968 from 35 Alumni who have, up to now, remained non-active (i.e. had neglected to pay their current dues). This number of active members added to our 1967 membership will bring the total Alumni membership to its highest point ever.

The usual Certificates of Membership are being engrossed and will be mailed to these new Active Members.

Dr. Baldwin Initiates Optometry College in Ceylon

Dr. William R. Baldwin, newly appointed president of MCO, has the unique experience of having initiated the start of an Optometry School in Ceylon.

Having spent two months on the S. S. Hope the American hospital ship, Dr. Baldwin did intern work and research in Ceylon while advising the country on how to establish an Optometric College. According to Dr. Baldwin the proposal to found the College is now being considered.

To help finance the school, Dr. Baldwin is selling tea and elephants on the west coast and says he will bring them to the east coast when he comes to MCO.

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Enlightens Alumni

Optometry's Role Enlarged Under New Driver Licensing Requirements

Massachusetts Registrar of Motor Vehicles Richard E. McLaughlin was the principal speaker at the Annual Fall Alumni Meeting held in Brookline, Mass., October 30th.

Alumni President Alton Lamont welcomed an overflow crowd of enthusiastic alumni to the dinner meeting arranged by Dr. Theodore Weisman, Chairman. Wives were also in attendance at this meeting.

Present as guests of Alumni were: Dr. Gerald Davis, President of Mass. Society of Optometry; Dr. Solomon Slobins, Chairman of the Motor Vision Committee, Mass. Society of Optometry; Dean Hyman Kamens, Dean of the College.

In order to stress the importance of the changes which are taking place in driver re-licensing requirements, Registrar McLaughlin presented a most interesting background of statistics and information as to driving habits and frequency of fatal accidents. He was most positive in his statement, surprising most of the audience, that the human factor caused 92% of all accidents.

In addition, he decried the failure of the MEDICAL profession to provide the set-up for proper handling of victims of accidents. He appreciated the cooperation the Registry has received from the OPTOMETRIC profession in helping screen those applicants for driver licenses who were referred to Optometrists by Registry officials.

The deluge of questions from the audience at the conclusion of Registrar McLaughlin's talk was answered unequivocally. The Registrar left no doubt in the minds of those present that the visual requirements for drivers will be closely screened and that anyone not measuring up to the standards set by law will be ruled off the roads.

Following the Registrar's talk, further questions were put to Dr. Solomon Slobins, Chairman of the Motorists' Vision Committee of the Mass. Society of Optometrists. His answers left the impression that Optometry's role in handling those who are turned down by the Registry due to failure in meeting the visual requirements will be enlarged and will cut down on the number of motorists who are, at present, driving with defective vision.

Basically, the new regulations call for a driver whose license has expired (at present every two years on his birthday), to make a personal appearance at designated Registry locations; take and pass a visual requirements test and rules of the road test (oral) and; with payment of $10; received a new portrait-attached license valid for four years. As of January 1st, 1970 the rules of the road test will be given in written form.

The business session resulted in passage of the constitutional changes listed in another section of this Bulletin (see page 2). One of the changes, the increase in the amount of dues, will enable the Alumni Association to expand its functions and activities and to increase the number and amount of scholarships.

A report from Dr. Al Hanson, former Alumni President, and now member of the Building Committee of the Board of Trustees of the College, stated that the selection of architects has narrowed to three firms and, with the final choice, the site of the new construction will follow with minimum delay. We hope to report further Building Fund progress in the next Bulletin.

A report from Dr. Morris Berman, Corresponding Secretary, indicated that paid-up membership of the Alumni Association will hit an all-time high this year. Over one-third of all alumni have now received their Alumni Certificates and their 1968 paid-up stickers. The alumni who have sent in their dues and Building Fund donations after October 1st will receive the proper acknowledgement before December 1st. Dr. Robert Titelbaum, Alumni Treasurer, will welcome all further dues payments and will acknowledge as soon as possible.

After hearing reports from various other committees, President Lamont adjourned the meeting, expressing his gratification at the large turnout and the mounting interest among the alumni in the affairs of the Association.

CLASS NEWS and NOTES

Class of 1968

The class of '68 would like to take this opportunity to again thank the Alumni Association for the privilege of attending their Smoker last May. This was a rewarding and profitable evening for us all.

Just as optometry is growing in leaps and bounds, so has our education at M.C.O. Throughout our four years we experienced a great expansion for our profession. We were the first class to be affiliated with the Brighton Marine Hospital where we were offered an excellent chance to observe pathology we previously only learned about from textbooks. Thus, was created an opportunity of optometrists and ophthalmologists to work hand-in-hand. Our many thanks go to Dr. Stanley Scheiner and Dr. Donald Doughman who taught us proper patient management in pathological cases. Gerald Malore class of '68 is now the optometrist in charge.

We also witnessed the growth of developmental vision in our fourth year. Walking boards and balance boards are now as much a part of our clinic as the phoropter, thanks to Dr. Phillip Friedman.

We welcomed Dr. Paul White as a new faculty member. His knowledge and devotedness to the contact lens field implants an indelible impression to all those who have had the privilege of knowing him.

The class of '68 after four years of theory and clinic must now put their education to practical use and service. We have been given a solid foundation on which we must each build our own optometric ideals and attitudes. The individual himself must further develop and improve himself by post-graduate opportunities.

Class of 1967

With the call-up of April, a good portion of the Class of '67 will be serving in the Army. Ben Polizzi and Gerry Glazer will be at Fort Dix. Jack Duggan, Bob Gold, Frank Pimentel and Marty Shuman will be in the Washington, D.C. area. All have been commissioned captains.

Dr. Fred Blank will replace Dr. Robert Gold as Director of the Optometric Clinic at the United States Public Health Service Hospital. Dr. Gold, who has served in this capacity since October, is entering the Army. Dr. Blank's replacement as instructor in Clinical Optometry and Orthoptics has not yet been named.

Doctors Allen Kaplan and Paul Weisberg announce the birth of daughters. Dr. Michael Newman and his wife are expecting in November.

Of the four members of the United States Public Health Service, three are from MCO, two from Class of '66 and one from the Class of '67, Marvin Pachman.

As of July 1, 1968 James Pialtos, O.D. has accepted a commission in the United States Army as an optometrist.

Your Alumni Association is hopefully developing a new trend for future dinner meetings. This will create a better representation for all. But, we need your cooperation. We want to have the April dinner meeting outside of the Boston area. There are three tentative areas. 1. Nashua, New Hampshire; 2. Worcester, Mass.; and 3. Providence, R.I. Help decide by returning the accompanying ballot today! Make this the best attended meeting ever in our history.

Return ballots to M.C.O. Alumni Association, 178 Newbury Street, Boston, Mass.

Ballot

I would be interested in attending a meeting of The Massachusetts College of Optometry Alumni Association in the city checked below:

Nashua, N.H.  Worcester, Mass.  Providence, R.I.

I would be willing to help in arranging such a meeting.

PRESIDENT'S POTPOURRI

By ALTON W. LAMONT, O.D.

In this column I would like to report to you about your Executive Committee, its sub-committees, their purposes, activities, changes, and innovations now being made. As this is a herculean task, I must be very brief.

Our first meeting was attended by twenty-one out of twenty-three members, with each member presenting his report. Never has there been present such positive thinking and enthusiasm!

I am very pleased to announce that Glen Gulezian has been appointed to fill the unexpired term as First Vice President.

Robert Golden has been appointed to fill Glen's position as Director. Drs. Cliff and Mary Scott (Cliff the 1968 recipient of the Alumni Association award, and Mary the Valedictorian) were present. Cliff will be entering the military and will no longer be available to offer his talents.

However, in his place we expect great things from John Tomasi, 1968 recipient of the Clinician's Award.

NEWS OF SOME OUTSTANDING COMMITTEES

Alumni Bulletin: We have increased our Bulletin Staff, and also the circulation to include all students of MCO, all registrars of Optometric Colleges, selected state Optometric directors and other friends of Optometry.

Class Agents: Bob Golden assumes the class agents duties. You'll be hearing from him soon with new ideas.

Programs: Joe Bickford and the program committee are considering either Nashua, N.H., Worcester, Mass., or Providence, R.I., for our April dinner meetings. Where is the action? Let them know! Where would you like this meeting to be held? Will you host us? We are willing to come.

March Luncheon: By advanced paid reservations only and limited to just under 300. The largest facility available has been reserved for MCO. First come, First served. Don't be left out. Chairman: Clint Wilson.

Board of Trustees Representative: Very adequately represented by Joe Craven. Excellent report Joe! Have you read it? (see page ??).

Externship Programs: Guide lines drawn for both Optometrist and student. Norm Jablow, Chairman. We will publish details in next issue. Watch for it.

Dues, Dues, Dues: Our Treasurer is Bob Titlebaum. Have you received your paid 1968 sticker? If not, why not? We must have active, paid members.

Scholarship and Awards: Clint Wilson and John Asakopf are your respective Chairmen: Look elsewhere in the bulletin about the recipients.

Legal and Constitution: Chairman, Albert Glickman: Reforms were adopted at our October 30th meeting. Being a legal corporation we must keep abreast of change.

Good and Welfare: Old textbooks, and schematic eyes needed. The College library and students would like to have them for their use. Will you help? Check with Ted Weisman on specific needs.

Through our effort a much more friendly feeling and productive attitude exists between students and Alumni. Last spring the officers held a "Smoker" with the Senior class, another is being planned. Would you like to attend? Let us know.

I had the pleasure of speaking at graduation and presenting the Alumni Association Award to Cliffor Scott. This September a reception for the first year class was held at the Sheraton Plaza. Many of your executive committee were in attendance. I informed the students of our many activities, interests and purposes. We were impressed with this most promising and distinguished class.
